

Just how popular are health savings accounts (HSAs)?

Let's look at the numbers.

HSAs

by the Numbers

71% of large and mid-sized employers are offering high deductible health plans (HDHPs).

37% of small employers are offering HDHPs.

26 million workers—nearly 30% of covered employees—are enrolled in an HDHP with a savings option (e.g., HSA).

23% of employers contribute enough to make their participants' HSA effective deductible less than $1,000.

$22 billion
—how much account holders contributed in the first half of last year.